

Event Finder

Author: Team WolfBerry

Problem Statement

(Find cool things happening close to you right now.) For a variety of reasons, the users want to know about and possibly attend local and/or nearby events. Our solution should provide users with a list of events happening within a selected radius of miles.

Who is experiencing the problem?

Individuals that just moved to a new part of the country. Also bored and/or curious individuals.

What is the problem?

As it stands, manually searching on the web for these events can be time-consuming, tedious and yield no desired results.

Where does the problem present itself?

When the person wants to find an event to attend and begins to search.

Why does it matter?

People want to find something to do.